

Goodbye Lullaby

Sandy Harless

Hush now, don't cry, you're safe within my arms
I'll cradle you in a lullaby to the rhythm of our hearts
Be still oh sands of time, don't let this moment pass away
As our hearts intertwine, I'll say good-bye to yesterdays
I'll sing to you songs of love; caress your downy brow
And kiss each tiny finger as I make this solemn vow

I will always love you, past the sands of time
I'll always hold you close to let you know that you are mine
No matter what tomorrow brings,
No matter how the cold wind stings
I'll be with you and you with me, and I will always love you

Hush now, don't cry you'll be safe within His arms
I'll hold you close as we say good-bye
'til the moment we must part
Be still oh sands of time don't let my angel fly away
Untie my heart slowly now as I remember yesterdays
I'll sing to you His songs of love; caress your paling brow
Kiss you as my tears flow down; run to your Savior now

He has always loved you beyond the sands of time
Life He breathed into you now gives you wings to fly
My soul grieves within this plan;
Some things I just don't understand
But God I'll still reach for Your hand
And find my home beneath Your throne
And I will always love you
